

Malta

Facts:

- Home to over 405,000 people
- Malta is a group of 3 islands; Malta, Gozo and Comino
- Malta covers just over 120 sq. miles in land area, making it one of the world's smallest and most densely populated countries.
- Maltese and English are the country's official languages.
- The history of Malta stretches back 7,000 years. Temples here predate the Egyptian pyramids and England's Stonehenge.
- Over the last 15 years, the island has become a major freight transshipment point, financial centre, and tourist destination
- Malta gained independence from the UK on 21 September 1964
- 6,892 hotel rooms

Malta:

Malta offers the perfect destination for you to relax on your next business trip, from restaurants that cook eclectic Mediterranean fusions, lovely beaches, fabulous sea views and waters perfect for scuba diving; you will be sure to find something to suit all tastes.

Malta regularly hosts EU conferences and other major political events utilizing a range of modern hotels and a wonderful variety of castles, palazzos and forts which provide excellent facilities for corporate hospitality events and business receptions.

The 16th-century Mediterranean Conference Centre can host up to 1,400 delegates and the 400-year-old Villa Medina can host up to 600 guests. Malta offers a variety of non-hotel based venues, such as castles, palazzos, forts, towers and restaurants .

Top attractions:

Grand Masters Palace
St John's Co-Cathedral
Hypogeum
Barrakka Gardens

Transport:

Malta International Airport is located just 3 miles from the city of Valletta and Air Malta connects the island with all of the major airports in Europe, North Africa and the Middle East.

The island is also a major cruise ship destination, with excellent ferry services to Sicily and other Mediterranean ports.